DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-53 are pending in this application.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-39, are drawn to compounds of Formula I, as defined in claim 1, and their pharmaceutical composition, variously classified in classes 514, 544, 546, 548, 549 and several subclasses.
- II. Claims 40-42, are drawn to a method of use of compounds of Formula I, as defined in claim 1, variously classified in class 514, 544, 546, 548, 549 and several subclasses.
- III. Claim 43, is drawn to intermediate compound of Formula vi, as defined in claim 43, classified in class 548 and several subclasses.
- IV. Claim 44, is drawn to intermediate compound of Formula xx, as defined in claim 44, classified in class 548 and several subclasses.
- V. Claim 45 and 46, are drawn to intermediate compounds of Formula xxvi and xxxii, as defined in claim 45, classified in class 548 and several subclasses.
- VI. Claims 47-51, are drawn to a process of preparing compounds of Formula I, as defined in claim 47, by hydrolyzing intermediate compound of Formula vi , classified in class 548, 549, and several subclasses.

- VII. Claims 47-51, are drawn to a process of preparing compounds of Formula I, as defined in claim 47, by hydrolyzing intermediate compound of Formula xx, classified in class 548, 549, and several subclasses.
- VIII. Claims 52-54, are drawn to a process of preparing compounds of Formula I, as defined in claim 52, by hydrolyzing intermediate compound of Formula xxiv, classified in class 548, 549, and several subclasses.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Invention Groups I and Groups III, IV or VI are related as mutually exclusive species in an intermediate-final product relationship. Distinctness is proven for claims in this relationship if the intermediate product is useful to make other than the final product (MPEP § 806.04(b), 3rd paragraph), and the species are patentably distinct (MPEP § 806.04(h)). In the instant case, the intermediate product is deemed to be useful as antiviral agents and the inventions are deemed patentably distinct since there is nothing on this record to show them to be obvious variants. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions anticipated by the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Invention Groups I and Groups VI, VII or VIII are related as product and process of making thereof. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process as claimed can be used to make another materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another materially different process (MPEP 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the product as claimed can be made by another materially different process as is clearly evident from claims 47-54. Therefore a separate search considerations are involved, which would impose a burden if unrestricted.

Art Unit: 1626

Inventions Group I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the process of using the product can be practiced by another materially different product as shown in examples, in pages 57-81. Therefore a separate search considerations are involved, which would impose a burden if unrestricted.

Accordingly, along with the election of one of the above groups, the following action is also taken.

Claim 1 is generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising, for example, the compositions of compounds of (1) Example 1085, page 33; Example 1028, page 59 etc. (2) a method of inhibiting the replication of papillomavirus using the compounds using compounds of Example 1085, etc. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purpose as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Upon the election of a single disclosed species (e.g. Example, page number and structural depiction), a generic concept, inclusive of the elected species, will be identified by the Examiner for examination. Moreover, whatever specific compound is ultimately elected, applicants are required to list all claims readable thereon.

In accordance with M.P.E.P. 821.04 and In re Ochiai, 71 F.3d 1565, 37 USPQ 1127 (Fed. Cir. 1995), rejoinder of product claims with process claims commensurate in scope with the allowed product claims will occur following a finding that the product claims are allowable. Until such time, a restriction between product claims, process of making and method of use is deemed proper. Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised the process of use are amended during prosecution to maintain either dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

A telephone call was made to Philip I. Datlow, on 02/20/03 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
